

THE COVE COUNTRY INN

FOUR SEASONS RESORT & SPA

OUR HISTORY

The Cove Country Inn was one of the grand old houses in Westport. It was constructed in 1876 by the Fredenburgh family who owned the local sash and door mill.

In the late 1920's, the houses were converted into the Lexena Hotel under the management of Alex and Lena Brown.

In 1932, the Robert's family added the beverage room and the Tweedsmuir Hotel became the place to visit on the Rideau.

On Sundays, hundreds would come and enjoy the sumptuous buffets. As time passed, the hotel's ownership changed several times, but the late Dick Ready's name stood out as giving his heart and soul to the hotel.

In 1988, renovations were undertaken by the Cowans and the Carvers to restore the Inn to its original proud state.

The newly opened Sundari Day Spa now complements the quaint jacuzzi and fireplace suites.

The Cove Country Inn is also now host to some of Canada's most well known Blues and Jazz artists.
